LOVE is patient. Love is kind.
It does not envy. It does not boast.
It is not proud. It is not rude.
It is not self-seeking. It is not easily angered. It keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil, but rejoices with the truth.
It always protects. Always trusts.
Always hopes. Always perseveres.

~ Corinthians 13:4-7

So faith, hope love remain; but the greatest of these is love.

Hi All!

IT'S MY OPINION AND I HAVE ONE!

rrichards@stjohnneumann.us

Well I hope you all had a pleasant week. As I believe you all know I was at the March for Life on the 25th, so that was just over a week ago. I wanted to touch on that experience a bit here- that is to the beauty of the march. First, I was there a few members of our youth group, along with people from St. Michaels. It is my hope that next year we can have a bus load of our own going to the march!

To describe the experience as beautifully peaceful and prayerful is an understatement. To have hundreds of thousands of people, all of different background and belief structures, joining together as on common body is amazing.

In Paul's letter to the Corinthians he states: "For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, slaves or freemen, and we were all given to drink of one Spirit" (1 Cor 12:13). This issue on life in the womb is a great place for all of us humans to band together with one common purpose, that being, the protection of life.

I think this is an experience we all can benefit from!

As you head home this weekend I ask you take this with you from the readings:

Does Jesus have a different "world view" from the townspeople who were so outraged at his words that they wanted to kill him?

Can you look past the expectations of others-of the world-to let God find you?

Is a mother's unquantifiable love beyond any measure of commitment in the world?

Is this the metaphor for God's unrelenting love?

Where is Jesus to be found after he departs from the mob who would kill him?

Is union with God your true self?

"Every one of us is shadowed by an illusionary person – a false self. This is the man I want myself to be but who cannot exist because God knows nothing about him. And to be unknown to God is altogether too much privacy. My false and private self is the one who wants to live outside the reach of God's will and God's love – outside the reach of reality and outside of life.

And such a self cannot help but be an illusion. We are not good about recognizing illusions, least of all the ones we cherish about ourselves the ones we are born with and which feed the roots of sin. For most of the people in the world, there is no genuine subjective reality than the false self of theirs, which cannot exist.

A life devoted to this life of shadow is what is called a life of sin. ... The self that exists only in my own egocentric desires is the fundamental reality of life to which everything else in the universe is ordered. Thus I use up my life in the desire for pleasures, and the thirst for experiences, for power, honor, knowledge, and love, to cloth this false self and construct this nothingness into something that is real." (Thomas Merton, New Seeds of Contemplation)

Peace

Fr Ron Richards

Cucchi's Corner

The psalm response after the 1st reading this weekend is taken from a new collection of psalms called The Lyric Psalter. The new settings in this collection have been composed by Tony Alonso and Marty Haugen. Their new musical settings are based upon The Revised Grail Psalms (2010). On April 9, 2010, the Most Rev. Arthur J. Serratelli, Bishop of Paterson, NJ, and Chairman of the Bishops' Committee on Divine Worship of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, informed the bishops of the United States that The Revised Grail Psalms had received an official recognition from the Vatican's Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments. It was the monks of Conception Abbey, in Conception, Missouri, under the direction of Abbot Gregory J. Polan, O.S.B., who produced this new translation.

This is what Fr. Michael Joncas has said regarding the new translations:

The approval of Benedictine Abbot Gregory Pollan's revision of the Grail Psalter for liturgical use in the United States has enriched the English-speaking world with a translation faithful to the original Hebrew, informed by usage in the Roman Rite, and contoured toward song.

* GIVE YOURSELVES A WEEKEND*

On a Worldwide Marriage Encounter weekend, you get away from the distractions of everyday life and focus on each other. The team couples and priest set an atmosphere for open and loving communication. They model the method, and share their own life experiences, making it easier for spouses to talk with each other. Although your conversations are private between you and your spouse, seeing other couples striving for a better relationship makes it easier to understand the importance of the Sacrament of Marriage. A priest is also sharing in the weekend, and is representing the Catholic Church and the Holy Orders.

In today's Gospel (Luke 4: 21-30), Jesus let's us know that he sees himself as a prophet, a person who has an important message from God. A prophet challenges us to make God the most important thing in our life. We are challenged to put God before other things, like riches or friends or power. Sometimes people don't want to hear this message because it is too difficult.

A prophet challenges us to act in the ways that God wants us to act, that is being loving people who put others first. Sometime we know that what a prophet is challenging us to do is the right and best thing to do; but it is hard to hear a reminder from someone else. This may be the reason that the people became angry with Jesus in today's Gospel story.

No doubt it is our challenge to be open to the message Jesus gives to do our best to put God first in our life and to love others as ourselves (no matter who is reminding us).

FAITH WORKS

A ritual says something that words cannot communicate. Christ left us the ritual of Eucharist. The Word of God gathers us and Eucharist touches us in a physical embrace. The Body of Christ means Jesus, the Eucharist and us, the body of believers. We are the body of Christ on earth.

~When do you feel like you are part of the Body of Christ?

The Eucharist has multiple facets--

a) It is the intensification of our membership in the body of Christ. This is my body, this is my blood not only means bread and wine it is that the people become changed into the body and blood of Christ. In St. Augustine's words, "Receive what you are." We come to the Eucharist to become like Christ.
~How have you felt changed by the Eucharist?

b) Eucharist is the new manna. There are different theologies of the Eucharist. The New Testament Gospel writers for Matthew, Mark and Luke were writing to different communities. In these accounts the Eucharist is instituted at the Last Supper. In John's Gospel, written much latter and to a different community situation, Eucharist is linked to manna, the bread of life. It is the daily feeding of people by God; a daily embrace by God.
~Are you more conscious of Eucharist as the enactment of the Last Supper or as a daily feeding, an embrace by God?

c) Eucharist as sacrifice. It is a ritual, and it isn't to be explained rationally. By ritually reenacting the Eucharist we believe it is actually happening and so are able to enter into the Mystery of Christ's death and resurrection. We go to Eucharist not just to consume Christ, but to enter into the event, the Mystery.
~What do you feel about entering into this Mystery in which God will embrace you?

d) Eucharist is both a sacrifice AND a meal. It exists in order that Christians can get together to enjoy one another. Eucharist exists for people to get together for the sake of getting together, to be in community.
~What is your experience of being a part of the community at Eucharist?

e) Eucharist is a prayer for the world; not a prayer of private devotion. We pray not for ourselves (although we are included as being part of the world). We pray for both the goodness and the pains in our world.

~How does this expand how you think of the Eucharist?

Eucharist is God's embrace of us. Eucharist is compared to a mother who embraces her child who has grown tired at the end of the afternoon. The child is frustrated and begins to torment the cat. At some point words will not soothe the child so the mother picks up the child. Now calmed, the child can be set down again. In the Eucharist, we are that child of God; our lives filled with tensions. In the Eucharist God embraces us and this help to take the tension away.

~ What is your reaction to this analogy?

Faith UNwrapped continues this week (Sun. 2:05, Mon. - Wed. 6:05), focusing on the Dignity of the Human Person from Vatican 2 - a blueprint to Catholic/Human Morality.

Did You Know about Vatican II...

Vatican II was in session only in the fall months, from 1962 - 1965. The bishops all went home in-between sessions.

HOW DID YOU SHARE YOUR FAITH THIS WEEK?

MIDDLESCHOOL NEWS

Greetings and Salutations,
Happy February!

Our Confirmation Retreat celebrated last weekend went well. We will share our pictures next time. The youth and I would like to thank all our wonderful parent chaperones for help making the day run smoothly; Alma Donnelly, Marivi Latham, J.P. & Alanna Angell, Judy Farmer, Mary Kay DeBrito, Kathy Klump, Bethany Safadi, Cheryl Valdahl, Minerva Sanabria, Mike Nolta, and thanks also to Catering by Kevin for our delicious meals. May God Bless you for your service.

Gospel Reflection... As Jesus began speaking all were amazed at his gracious words. Do we always make the attempt to have gracious words flow from our mouths? As people of God, we are called to proclaim gracious words... words of grace so that others may be amazed of the good news of Jesus. Sometimes, we are tempted to use words that hurt others when they disagree with the Gospel. This is very true in this time of social networking when it is easy to use words to hurt others anonymously. Today, let's recommit ourselves to using gracious words so that others may come to encounter our gracious God.

Holy God, may we never take your love for granted. Awaken us to your mystery and the wonders of creation. Fill us with gratitude and teach our hearts to sing your praise. Amen.

Have a great week everyone!

Blessings,

Sabrina Queen

The March for Life was amazing. We had an incredible time, and all felt more convicted that every single human life has dignity and is worth protecting. Leading up to the March, I kept telling people that we were going to Washington to March in opposition to the legal killing of children in this country. At the March, I felt a mixture of emotion. I felt proud to stand and give witness that our practice of killing children in this country is unacceptable. But, I felt sad that there even has to be a March. Just in case you missed it (sometimes the news media forgets to report on such things), there were 650,000 people who descended upon Washington DC last week for the March. Also, the youth rallies held before had around 60,000 young people. The best part of the March is knowing that younger generations are seeing clearly that justifying the taking of human life is NEVER okay. A special thanks to Marshall and Jodi for chaperoning and of course, to Father Ron for supporting our youth and giving of his time to be there.

This week is a faith UNwrapped, so please know that we will be meeting for youth group from 6:00-8:00 pm.

Have a great week.

Neumann's Needlers

Thanks to our industrious knitters and crocheters we made two donations last month: hats and scarves to St Thomas a'Becket's Coat Drive, and auction items for St Pat's Mardi Gras Strolling Dinner and Auction to benefit the St Patrick Food Pantry. We are currently creating baby blankets and other baby items for the Right to Life Baby Shower at SJN. The next meetings are Feb 12 and Feb 26, 2013 at 7:30 PM. We are happy to welcome men and women, young and old, beginners and advanced. Questions? Contact Bev Polcyn at bevpolcyn@hotmail.com or at 734-740-3701

FIRST HOLY COMMUNION BOUTIQUE DONATION REQUEST

The First Holy Communion Boutique is once again being made available to our extended Catholic Faith Community! It has become a yearly Christian Service Project to help those families with children making their First Holy Communion. It is purely families helping families. It is no cost and doesn't make money. Last year over 100 pieces of clothing were given out and numerous families have told us how grateful they were for your generosity. This year the boutique is one weekend only and will be held at GESU Parish in Detroit.

Please consider donating NEW or GENTLY USED girls and boys First Communion Clothing: (Dresses, Veils, Slacks, Shirts, Sport coats) and Gift Items. A bin is located in the Gathering Area for your donations.
